Motivational Speech Themes

"What Color Is Your Imagination?" -- Using the symbolism of color to describe how we need to tap into the innovation and creativity that exists in all of us.

"The Power of CARE: Choice, Attitude, Relationships and Effort" — Examining what you say you care about and if your actions reflect that. Use this framework to actualize positive change and improvement.

"Let Us Endure and Save Ourselves for Better Things" — The power of delayed gratification and working through adversity and hard times to enjoy the rewards to come. Life is not a sprint, it is an endurance race.

"Does Your Attitude Supplement Your Aptitude?" — We may have the mental ability to accomplish things in life, but your attitude can amplify what you have to increase your success in your life and/or your career.

"Don't be Afraid to be a Woman" — Enjoying the strength of femininity in your business or personal life and the special attributes of the woman in the mirror.

If you are looking for in-depth training to enhance the skills of your executives, managers or front-line employees, or a keynote speech to provide inspiration and motivation for personal or organizational improvement, Nadine can fill your speaking and training needs.

Nadine doesn't just provide a cookie cutter presentation. She is an educator at heart and knows the best teachers are first the best students.

Nadine takes the time to become a student of your organization, combines that knowledge with the framework of motivational themes she has developed and creates presentations and seminars that are customized just for you.

Your staff or event attendees will leave her presentation entertained, motivated and empowered by the skills and techniques she provides.
